

Boen & Gill – Management

Dolores Gill - Co-founder, CEO and Creative Director

Dolores Gill, the creative force behind all of Boen and Gill successful products was born and grew up in Singapore. While still a teenager, she began her successful career in the fashion world and soon connected with her creative passions – alongside her sister - as a clothing designer. Since that time she has worked in the fashion industry as a model and choreographer, continuing to evolve her innate skills for the heart of the business: Design. She has produced numerous runway shows in partnership with major department stores in Europe and the United States and has created complete private-label, one-off fashion lines for both male and female clientele.

Dolores's education and extensive travels around the world, as well as her core creative and artistic skills, continue to inspire and influence her to create textures and layers in her design that are both holistic and intimate. She has been particularly inspired by the Italian design lines and aesthetic, and uses this “edge” as a platform for clean and elegant lines in her work.

She received her Associates Degree in Economics at Beatty College, earned her Bachelors in Advertising from the University of Washington, and a Masters in Whole Systems Design with a focus on International Business from Antioch University, also in Seattle, Washington.

One of Dolores' life-long passions is improving the quality of life for women and children. She founded the C'est La Vie Foundation to raise funds to support global projects and agencies that work with women and children in need, including the successful microloan projects of Africa. Dolores has served on several non-profit boards over the years and has used that passion to launch the Dragonfly Project with Boen & Gill.

For all her art and design foundation, Dolores retains a keen eye for business success delivering profitable and desirable products and staying focused on survival and success in the highly competitive market of high-end fashion. Keeping that fine balance has enabled her to drive business operations - from marketing materials to commercial website design – to profitable growth and long term business development.
